

PRESENTED BY THE UCONN SPORT MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

#CONNECT

THURSDAY 3|18 7PM ET

BEYOND THE FIELD

DEMOCRACY IN AND THROUGH SPORT

Through an open dialogue, event moderators and panelists will bring their intersecting perspectives from sport management, sport diplomacy, sport and human rights, sports and politics, and athlete activism. The dialogue aims to raise awareness, while also challenging thinking and inspiring leadership on the topic of democracy in and through sport.

DAVID GREVENBERG

David is a sport leader and innovator. David is an inspiring global leader and innovator in the world of sport specifically in connection with human rights, equality, diversity and inclusion repairing historical injustice.

RACE IMBODEN

Two-time Olympian foil fencer and Olympic medalist, World Fencing Championship medalist, World Cup Champion and fashion model. As a trendsetter and a rule breaker both on and off the mat, Race is known for his strong, progressive stance on social justice.

DR. LINDSAY SARAH KRASNOFF

Historian, writer, and consultant working at the intersection of global sport, communication, and diplomacy. Dr. Krasnoff is a decorated author and has been published in The Athletic, CNN International, VICE Sports, ESPN, The Washington Post, The New Yorker, and others.

GLENN MITOMA

Assistant Professor of Human Rights and Education with scholarship dedicated to the history of human rights and human rights education. Director of Dodd Human Rights Impact which promotes a culture of human rights.

TO ATTEND REGISTER AT S.UCONN.EDU/BTFDEMOCRACY